Product Description

Manuka Honey UMF10+(250g) Gift Manuka Honey From New Zealand Pure Raw Honey

Product Description

All kinds of pure raw honey have been used as natural antibiotics throughout the centuries. In recent years, researchers have discovered that honey's power to kill germs comes from hydrogen peroxide produced with the help of a bee enzyme.

Manuka honey takes this a step further by attacking germs with a substance called MGO. Found in the nectar of some Manuka plants, this substance helps heal both minor and chronic wounds.

Because of this, the U. S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has approved bandages infused with Manuka honey for both over-the-counter and prescription sales.

The more MGO there is in the natural bee honey, the more antiviral and antibacterial properties it has.

250g Natural Manuka Honey UMF10+

Manuka honey may be able to reduce inflammation and irritation associated with acne. This manuka honey is 100% pure raw honey. To do this, apply Manuka honey directly to the skin. Be sure to cover the affected area with a thin layer of honey.
